

What Do They Cure?

The above question is often asked concerning Dr. Pierce's new healing methods, "Famous Medical Discovery" and "The Cure."

The answer is that "Famous Medical Discovery" is a new patent alternative of blood-purifier, a tonic or invigorator and acts especially favorable to those diseases of the blood vessels, heart, lungs, kidneys, liver, stomach, intestines, glands, nerves and muscles, curing a wide variety of diseases, such as the usual passions, throat, bronchial cases, stomach trouble and intestinal diseases, nervous diseases, rheumatism, etc.

It also cures the usual maladies of the nasal passages, the throat, larynx, bronchia, sinusitis, catarrhal dyspepsia, bowel trouble, constipation, diarrhea, colic, uterine or other pelvic organs, etc., etc. The chief indications of these afflictions, it is often observed in affecting cure.

"Famous Prescription" is uttered that it is a cure of most diseases, those passing weaknesses, degeneracies and regeneration tendency to women only. It is a powerful yet gently acting invigorating and tonic, a great restorative, a real, over-priced wonder—no matter what has caused the breakdown. "Famous Prescription" will be found most effective in building up the strength, regenerating the body, curing the various diseases and maintaining about a healthy, vigorous condition of the whole system.

A team of particularists visits each booth giving the word of mouth concerning their what means of eminent medical workers, whose names are consulted by physicians in all schools of practice as guides in prescribing and each indicating into the name of the physician.

The words of praise bestowed on the several ingredients entering into Doctor Pierce's medicine in such particular detail have been repeated again and again in our publications, because each man is setting forth the guidance of their medical knowledge and taste whereof.

Both medicines are non-addictive, non-sedative, and contain no harmful habit-forming drugs, being composed of glycerine extracts of the roots of native American plants, which are easily digested and sold by dealers in medicines. You can't afford to except as a substitute for one of these medicines of known composition, any other nostrum.

Dr. Pierce's entire small sugar-coated, may be taken as candy, regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

COUNTY NEWS

By Our Special Correspondents.

HENEFER.

Henefer, March 26.—Mr. Wm. V. Conner unleashed a race of lumbermen yesterday for his new store.

Wm. J. Lee of Ramus was visiting relatives here this week.

Miss Lillian Hunter, daughter of Pres. Hirsch of the Morgan Stake, spent Sunday in Henefer.

Three meetings were held at the ward conference last Sunday. All the ward stake presidency with the clerk were present, and gave good instructions.

Sisters M. W. Taglie and Margaret Salmon visited our Sabbath school last Sunday. The latter addressed the parents last Sunday.

Those who ate their Easter eggs last Sunday on account of the squall in the Times, will have to try it over again next Sunday, that being really Easter. It always falls on the first Sunday after the first full moon following the vernal equinox.

Next Friday is Good Friday, and don't forget the hot cross buns.

Old winter in all his glory is here this morning—about two inches of snow covers the ground.

Bitter cold, lack of exercise are the main causes of dyspepsia. A Rings Dyspepsia Tablette after each meal aids digestion, improves the appetite. Sold by John Boyden & Son.

OAKLEY

Oakley, March 26.—Joe Phillips passed away last Thursday, March 21st, about 9 o'clock a.m. He was an old resident of the county, living here nearly all of his life.

He was born in England and came to Utah at the age of 11, and resided at Wanstead, Park City and Oakley until he was called to the great beyond, from whence no traveler returns.

He leaves a wife, six girls and two boys to mourn his departure. The funeral was held at 9:30 a.m. Sunday, at the ward house, with all the family present but his youngest son, Kyle, who is supposed to be in Wyoming.

You should be very careful of your bowels when you have a cold. Many other simple syrups are constipating, especially those containing opiates. Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup moves the bowels—contains 50 opiums. Conforms to National Pure Food and Drugs Law. Bears the endorsement of mothers everywhere. Children like its pleasant taste. Sold by John Boyden & Son.

"OLD ARKANSAW."

The Salt Lake Herald has this to say of Old Arkansas:

"Despite the exceptionally powerful counter attraction at the Salt Lake theatre last evening, the Grand was crowded to the doors for the performance of 'Old Arkansas,' and it was a well pleased crowd that left the popular playhouse after the final curtain. 'Old Arkansas' deserves good patronage. It is one of the good old, homely plays. It has a splendid moral running through it, and all comes out right in the end—the villagers just what he should get and all the innocent receive their just reward."

The scene is laid in the mountains of Arkansas and most of the characters are simple country folk. Of course city folk from St. Louis are introduced, and one of the scenes is in the conservatory off the ballroom in a fine home in St. Louis.

There is nothing startlingly new in the plot, in fact it is rather conventional, but still it is interesting. It begins with a train robbery and ends with the blowing up of the jail in Remonville.

The play is in good hands. Chair Nicholson as 'Jeremiah Sodgrass' is a whole show in himself. He is the best old man seen at the Grand in many a long day. E. D. Pitlor as 'Jim Cummings' is bright. He bubbles over with vivacity and his laugh is infectious. Sam Hayes as 'Matty Shewee' is another who made a decided hit with the audience last evening. Her makeup, songs and acting would cure the worst case of blue devils that ever came to town. Grace Bell Gilmore takes the leading female part as 'Susie Rogers' and measures up fully to every demand made upon her.

John G. Odell in the part of 'Old Arkansas' does a good piece of work. He never overacts the part and for that reason is exceptionally strong. Alfred Otto makes an acceptable villain. The minor parts are well handled."

I guarantee that the above play will be rendered NEXT TUESDAY NIGHT in COALVILLE EXACTLY as it was in the Grand.

Whistler a Poor Customer.

"Curiously enough," remarks Mortimer Menpes, "whatever one comes in contact with Whistler one entirely forgets one's own affairs and becomes completely occupied with his. The art of the master's cost was far more important to me than my own artistic work. At the tailor's Whistler would give an elaborate description of how a certain coat was to be made and the tailor would carry out his directions. But no sooner had the man accomplished the work than Whistler would say, 'This is all wrong. How dare you say that it is what I told you to do?' I am a painter, it is not my business to make coats. That is your province. Therefore you should have let me to do what you knew to be right."

Nay. Use for Whisky.

A mother, newly engaged, requested his master to allow him some whisky. "There's nothing like it to clean the windows," said he. However a few minutes later his master chanced to pass through the room and to his surprise found the glass empty. "Why, James," he asked, "where's the whisky?" "Well, you see, sir," said James, "it's this way. I don't see any whisky and there's bread on the glass."

In 1867 I had a stomach disease, some physicians said Dyspepsia, some constipation. One said I would not live out spring. Feb. 4, 1868 I extracted two pints milk, sold it to doctor's prescriptions. I could digest anything. Later then I picked up one of your Almanacs and it happened to be my birth-day. I bought a 50-cent bottle of KODOL and the benefit I received from that bottle all the gold in Georgia could not buy. In two months I went back to my work as a machinist, and in three months I was well and healthy.

—C. W. Cornell, Roslyn, Ga., 1868.

The above is only a sample of the great good that is daily done everywhere by Kodol for Dyspepsia. It is sold here by John Boyden & Son.
